Ab'original/Indigenous-Led Coalition Launches Platinum Jubilee Campaign: Honoring Civil Rights Legacy Through Traditional Wisdom and Universal Human Dignity “4 the Children”

70th Anniversary of Emmett Till's Legacy Becomes Foundation for Post-Racial Humanity Movement Rooted in Sacred Reciprocity

GREENWOOD, MISSISSIPPI (August 28, 2025) – An Ab'original-led coalition, drawing on the sacred timing linking the 1963 March on Washington to Emmett Till's legacy, today launches the Platinum Jubilee Campaign. This initiative marks the 70th anniversary of the event that ignited the Civil Rights Movement, evolving it into a vision of universal human dignity. Centered on Ab'original wisdom and the Golden Rule Jubilee principle, it pays tribute to the tragedy of Emmett Till's untimely death at 14-years of age to build a campaign that ensures all children receive dignity, reciprocity, life, liberty, and pursuits of happiness in Pure Trust on Earth as in the heavens.

Originating in the ancestral Choctaw territories of the Mississippi Delta, the campaign transforms Greenwood and Money, Mississippi—sites of profound heritage and trauma—into centers based in truth, hope, healing, reconciliation, and renewal.

From Civil Rights to Human Dignity: An Ab'original Framework

"We stand at a pivotal moment where civil rights equality evolves into Ab'original Jubilee vision for universal dignity," said Emperor/King Reginald I Yahweh of the Shaykamaxum Republic Tribal Nations Government. "Our ancestors—from the Middle Passage and those enduring removal—upheld the self-evident truth that all children deserve harmonious reconciliation with each other and Natural planet Earth."

The campaign uses the "4 the Children" framework, blending Ab'original values with community development:

1. Truth and Reconciliation: Healing historical trauma and honoring interconnected struggles of marginalized peoples.
2. Sacred Economics: Building community-controlled systems based on Jubilee reciprocity, not extraction.
3. Restorative Justice: Converting sites of harm into regenerative foundations.
4. Earth-Centered Development: Creating sustainable infrastructure guided by traditional ecological vision to serve seven generations.

Ab'original Knowledge Meets Contemporary Innovation

Grounded in four traditional Ab'original intents, the initiative introduces:

1. Frequency-Based Community Economics: Systems integrating 528 Hz healing frequency, sound, vibration, and natural harmony.
2. Four Directions Organization: Development honoring Ab'original cosmology and territorial concepts.

3. Ceremonial Business Protocols: Consensus-building processes with truth and reconciliation in modern decisions.
4. Mother Earth-Centered Infrastructure: Renewable energy and housing via treaty-guaranteed relationships in Pure Trust.

Coalition with Conscience and Cultural Restoration

Led by the Shaykamaxum Republic Tribal Nations Government, providing sovereignty, spiritual guidance, and knowledge integration for dispersed tribes that reclaim Ab'original heritage through self-determination in Pure Trust. Partners include community organizations, Ab'original financial institutions, cultural foundations, and international allies focused on rights to life, liberty, happiness, and environmental justice—all under Elder accountability.

"Every effort reflects our duty to seven generations," Emperor/King Reginald I Yahweh stated. "The '4 the Children' focus ensures trauma healing and brings sustainable peace and joy to descendants."

The strategy includes:

1. Ab'original Jubilee language and cultural preservation.
2. Traditional ecological knowledge integrated with environmental science.
3. Healing-centered mental health and spiritual wellness.
4. Economic empowerment via Ab'original-controlled cooperatives.

Sacred Timing for Transformation

1. Phase 1 (August 28, 2025): Sunrise ceremony and virtual community launch honoring Till with traditional protocols.
2. Phase 2 (Years 1-3): Pilots in housing, energy, and education, guided by Ab'original processes.
3. Phase 3 (Generations 1-2): Expansion to bioregional, post-colonial models worldwide.

Beyond Colonial Categories: A New Proof-of-Concept Model

The campaign advances beyond race-based frameworks to Ab'original-informed human organization, centering truth, reconciliation, children's welfare, and reciprocity. It fulfills civil rights promises while modeling restoration.

"We're fulfilling Dr. King's dream through Ab'original sacred relationships," Emperor/King Reginald I Yahweh emphasized. "These gifts heal communities and guide all peoples toward right relations with Mother Earth."

Respectful Engagement and Community Accountability

Operations follow Ab'original protocols:

1. Elder oversight for cultural integrity.
2. Community consensus in decisions.
3. Jubilee reciprocity in partnerships.
4. Seven-generation assessments.

Interested parties should engage via honorable protocols, committing to long-term relationships.
